Use this organizer to accomplish the following tasks:

1. Choose five defining moments for your character. In other words, choose five moments from the novel that changed your character in a significant way.
2. Find a quote to support each defining moment. Don't forget to include the page number!
3. Briefly describe the way in which each moment changed your character.
4. Note whether your moment was "low," "medium," or "high." Low moments changed your character in a negative way, high moments improved your character, and medium moments were neutral.
